OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY OF AKRON.

TO TELEPHONE THE DEMOCRAT CALL
No. 180.

MONDAY, DEC. 24, 1900.

No paper will be issued from the Democrat office tomorrow because of the Christmas holiday. The Democrat wishes all of its friends a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.A Toledo woman who wanted to prevent her husband from joining a lodge represented that she had been assaulted by a negro and robbed of the money which her husband intended to use as his initiation fee. Later she confessed the deception. If this thing had occurred down South there would have been a lynching first, and explanations afterward.Every Sunday evening a number of the Cleveland churches are turned into debating societies, and "The New Woman" seems to be the continuing subject. With the Cleveland pulpits diverting from their occupation of preaching the gospel, it is not surprising that the Council of that city should be forgetting its obligation to represent and defend the interests of the people.Senator Hanna is pushing the Ship Subsidy bill and beating the recalcitrant Senators and Congressmen into submission because he promised the principal contributors to the campaign fund that this bill should pass. For every million they gave they will receive twenty in return, which is a very fair interest on their money. It was part of the agreement that the Subsidy proposition should be applauded in the Republican platform. This did not happen, much to the good Hanna's chagrin. He thereupon began misson-ary work in close Congressional districts. No money was contributed to the aid of needy candidates without a hard and fast agreement on their part that they would support this monster fraud. Of course the bill will pass.

WIFE

Took Novel Method of Keeping Husband Out of a Lodge.Toledo, O., Dec. 24.—(Spl.)—A peculiar incident in connection with the hold up epidemic in this city is the confession of Mrs. H. O. Young, of Wisconsin st., to the effect that her story of a hold up was bogus.She explained the story by saying that her husband was about to join a lodge and to prevent it she secreted the money and invented the tale. She told of a colored man seizing and robbing her on the street in the early evening.A colored man was arrested on suspicion and it was when she went to the station to identify the prisoner that the chief of police secured a confession. This makes four hold up stories exploded out of about twelve reported.Tan purse free with each savings

Amusements

The management of the Grand announces as the next attraction David Higgins' beautiful Southern romance, "At Piney Ridge." The scenes of the play are laid amid the pine clad hills of Tennessee, where the people speak with a soft drawing accent, and where they love and hate with an intensity the cold Northerner knows not. The story is that of a young white man who, when an infant had been stolen by a revengeful slave and abandoned in the mountains, only to be found and cared for by a mountain woman who bequeathed him property on which were rich deposits of iron and coal. The opening of the play finds the young man rich and on the eve of marriage to a beautiful girl.
The engagement is broken off when he is accused of being a negro by his rival, who is himself the one tainted with black blood. The plot and development are strong and powerful and the run of incidents exciting and unexpected. The race question is handled in an unusual way. There is quite a thread of characteristic comedy and the play is one of absorbing interest. The producing company is a powerful one, and the scenery and electrical effects are novel and beautiful. Christmas matinee and evening.

Jeff D. Bernstein's attraction, "A Ride For Life," will be presented at the Grand, Saturday, Dec. 29, matinee and night. All the scenery and mechanical properties and practical working stage effects will be used at the Grand, as the stage is admirably adapted for scenic production. Nothing will be cut or abbreviated.

The play in many ways diverges from the conventional path, and has the distinction of being novel and unlike the majority of plots. The cast is strong and the comedy is in the hands of the two brightest people on the stage, Rosa Snow and Carrie Exler.
There is no blood and thunder but action and sensation, natural characters in possible positions, doing sensible things, and pictures of life that are serious and dangerous and thrilling, followed by fun enough to dry the tears.

It is rarely safe to anticipate in matters theatrical, but when managers have demonstrated their entire honesty by never departing from the high standard for great stage effect and gigantic production and upon which they wish to base their claim for public recognition and endorsement; when year after year correcting mistakes, honestly made, they have maintained the superior quality of that which they have to offer, it is not rash or unwise to speak decisively in advance. In writing of "A Ride For Life," moreover, to descend from the general to the particular, the element of doubt cuts no figure; its success is known well.

AKRON MAN

Inventor of New Frame For Buggy.

An Akron man is the inventor of a new frame for buggies, making them lighter, stronger, neater in appearance, and making their manufacture and sale cheaper than heretofore.

J. D. Ryan, superintendent of the American Cycle company is the inventor. The new frame is made entirely of tubing, such as is used on bicycles, the joints being brazed together.
At least 100 buggies of this kind will be placed on the market during the coming season.

SPLENDID

Plan Is Proposed.

Training School For Girls at Kenmore.Its Cost Will Exceed $100,000.Situated on Brow of a High Hill.Methodists Will Push the Project—Land Donated.

Great things are in prospect for Kenmore, the new village to be located between Akron and Barberton.

It is now proposed to establish a girls' training school there provided there is a sufficiently liberal response to a petition for donations.

The school will be situated on the brow of the high hill overlooking the site of the town. The location is an ideal one. The summit of the elevation is one of the highest points in the state. It would be secluded and the young ladies who attended the institution would always be insured good health because of the pure air and water which is found there in abundance.

To carry out the plan a number of Akron men have offered to donate the Methodist church 60 acres of ground for the proposed school, and they are also willing to donate a generous amount of the cost of the buildings.
One of the conditions of the gift is that the buildings shall be erected at a cost of not less than $100,000. The of cod-liver oil is the means of life and enjoyment of life to thousands: men women and children.

When appetite fails, it restores it. When food is a burden, it lifts the burden.

When you lose flesh, it brings the plumpness of health.
When work is hard and duty is heavy, it makes life

It is the thin edge of the

But what is the use of food,

Methodist church is expected to take entire charge of the school and provide for its maintenance.

The school is designed to be conducted along practical lines. It will be a training and preparatory school where girls will be taught the science of cookery and other instruction necessary to develop practical women. The grounds will be utilized for the cultivation of flowers, so that practical instruction in botany may be afforded.

Already $10,000 of the estimated cost of the buildings has been pledged, and considerable more money is in sight.
Rev. J. S. Rutledge of Glenville, has been asked to present the matter officially to the Northeastern Ohio conference of the M. E. church, and he has taken a great interest in the matter, being heartily in favor of the project. The conference will not meet until next September, and nothing definite can be done until that time, but in the meantime efforts will be made to raise the necessary amount of money and to create favorable sentiment for the plan so that the conference will adopt it.

The Akron gentlemen who propose to donate the land and part of the cost of the erection of the necessary buildings are N. B. Steiner, George O.
Berry, H. T. Wilson and Fred E.
Smith, the latter being vice president of the Second National bank of Akron.

It is proposed to establish a Deacon-ness training school in connection with the institution where young women desiring to take up that work, can receive practical and complete training.

Rev. Rutledge is a personal friend of Mr. Steiner. Last week he held a conference with Mr. Steiner at Akron, and he agreed to present the matter to the church together with his heartily endorsement. All that is necessary is for the church to accept the proposition. This is thought to be highly probable. Mr. Rutledge said yesterday: "At the next annual conference a committee will be appointed to represent the church in consideration of the project. In the meantime efforts will be made to receive subscriptions so that we can go before the conference with something tangible to report. I have already the grant of sixty acres of land in such a way that there can be no hitch on the part of the plans. Of course, the plan will meet with some opposition from co-educational institutions, for they will naturally anticipate it will draw from their colleges.

"I am informed that Dr. Crawford of Allegheny college has already refused to co-operate in the enterprise.
Personally I have nothing against co-educational institutions, but I am thoroughly convinced that we need a school of this kind, where our daughters may be given a practical education along the lines suggested by the founders. I cannot see how the church can refuse the conditions and this gift.
I believe it will accept. I shall urge the matter all that I am able. The proposed location for the school is an ideal one and is easy of access.

"I am in favor of closing some of the colleges we have at present rather than not to have in this large territory one school of the character proposed."

DISCHARGED.

Young Man's Father Got Him Out of Trouble.

Ravenna, O., Dec. 24.—(Spl.)—Bert Wait, of this place, whose arrest for forgery at Berkeley, Cal., on Oct. 10, caused a big sensation, has been discharged from custody, all charges against him having been settled.

Young Wait was agent for the United States Express company at Ravenna, and left there the night of Aug. 7, ostensibly to attend a dance at Silver Lake. The rig in which he went was left at Kent, and nothing more was heard of him until his arrest in California. At the time of Wait's disappearance the books of the express company were examined and it was found that $14 had been overpaid in collections. When the arrest was made it developed that a package of 200 $5 bills, unsigned, sent from Washington to the Second National bank, of this place, had been taken. A greater part of this was recovered in California.

Nine blank express orders were also taken and for money secured one of these led to his arrest, the forged endorsement causing its return to the bank, unhonored.

Since young Wait's arrest his father E. H. Wait, a prominent liveryman here, has been untiring in his efforts to extricate the son from his troubles, and he received the glad intelligence last night of his discharge.

OFFICERS

Arrest Two Men on Suspicion at Hudson.Admitted They Stole Dynamite at Cuyahoga Falls.

Wm. Correll aged 27 and Joseph Ly-rich, aged 34, were arrested Sunday at Hudson by Detective Dunn, and the Marshal of Cuyahoga Falls, on suspicion.

The two men, it is alleged, have been staying around the Falls the past few days and last Saturday night stole several sticks of dynamite from the company employed digging wells for water works. During the night an explosion occurred at the Falls, but just where it happened could not be learned by the authorities. The marshal at the Falls telephoned Detective Dunn regarding the theft and explosion Sunday morning and suspicion was placed on the two men. A search was made for them and they were located in Hudson, where they were arrested and brought to Akron. They admitted taking the dynamite, but would not say for what purpose they intended using it.

The prisoners are well dressed and say they are Longshoremens by trade.
They will be arraigned Tuesday morning on a charge of being suspicious characters.

KENT.

A Movement Is on Foot to Boom the Town.

A number of Kent capitalists are interested in a scheme to boom their village. Mr. J. R. Burns has recently purchased a tract of land with excellent advantages for manufacturing concerns. The land has a large railroad frontage giving it splendid shipping facilities. Mr. Burns proposes to donate operation of his newly acquired possessions to manufacturing enterprises looking for a site. From the sale of adjoining lots, he will raise a fund to be used as additional inducements to secure factories to locate in Kent.

Already negotiations are going forward with the Applied Liquid Air company of Pittsburgh and the Wick Furnace company of Cleveland. The former employs about 300 men. It wants 10 acres of land and a $10,000 bonus. The Cleveland company gives employment to 100 men. It needs 7 acres and $7, 000 cash bonus.

Mr. Burns has divided his land into 237 lots and a committee has been appointed to push their sale.

Through its well known townsman, Hon. Marvin Kent, the village has also a strong bid for the Brown Hoisting Company's plant since its destruction by fire last week. The company, however, will not leave Cleveland.
